

It is my belief the FCC needs to take a stand against the high-jacking of my freedom of choice rights. The bottom line is this: I have the right to make a choice where I get my radio content, regardless of what a group of lobbyists say. Those same lobbyists, the NAB, only represent the financial interests of their broadcaster constituents, not the rights or interests of my, the listener. Hence, I strongly urge the FCC to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and support my right to choose content from providers such as XM satellite radio. Is that not what a free enterprise society is about? Those that offer the best service or product will win my business. I demand the FCC not dictate where I shop - doing so undermines the basis of the freedoms of this country and serves only to protect a group of business owners that feel they shouldn't have to compete in a democratic business environment. Let freedom ring...through the crystal clear sounds of my digital XM radio!

Sincerely,
Jeff Sopha
